

Out and About with Heather

Heather has been busy visiting charities over the last month to brief them on developments around payroll giving and our new association with David Living and the Payroll Giving Foundation. If we haven't had chance to give you a briefing, please call us for an appointment.

Heather was recently working with Dwyllis Brown and Gaylene Hughes, all coaching experts, to host a group of charity managers for a breakfast with Dalton Kelly as guest speaker. The function went well, and Dalton gave a challenging presentation. Read about the highlights in September's issue of Fundraising New Zealand.

This week Heather was in Auckland to visit the Payroll Giving Foundation.

On a personal note Heather is standing for her sixth term on the local Upper Hutt City Council so if you are passing through Upper Hutt you just might see her on the street corner, campaigning.
